When a student has enrolled in a Rose State College course, the grade issued at the end of the course will become a part of the student's official transcript at RSC and is a permanent academic record. Courses transcribed by RSC are eligible for transfer to other colleges. However, the receiving college has the authority to determine eligibility of those courses as they apply toward a specific desired major. Once a student is officially enrolled in a college course, the student must complete the drop/withdrawal process within the designated time frame in order for the grade not to show up on the permanent official transcript or for any possible refund of payment. The student must withdraw by visiting the Rose State College Office of Admissions and Records.
