

attention and respect—no matter the client’s capacity, the elder law attorney can ethically advocate for his or her client.