

Benefit Limitations

- Death claims must be filed within two years
- If death doesn't occur within one year from accident or within three years of receiving compensation benefits then a rebuttable presumption arises that the death did not occur from the injury