

Who are we?

 The Oklahoma Department of Rehabilitation Services (DRS) is a state agency that helps people who have physical, visual or mental disabilities find employment in their community.

What services can the DRS Transition: School-to-Work Program provide?

 The transition program is based on individual needs, so each student's employment plan will be different. Eligible students will receive career counseling and guidance from their DRS counselors and have the opportunity to participate in a variety of employment readiness programs.

Is there a waiting list?

 There may be times when there is a wait for services. The earlier you apply coupled with severity of your disability determines when services may begin. We begin service at the age of 16. So, get your applications in early!
